THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, JANUARY 10. to Saturday, JANUARY 17. 1735-6.

LONDON, Sept. 30.

AN Article from Hanover in the Dutch Prints has it, that his Majeſty has lately made ſome great Preſents to the Princeſs of Saxe-Gotha; and that the Marriage talk'd of for the Prince of Wales, will be ſoon followed by another between Prince Frederick of Heſſe, Nephew to the King of Sweden, and one of the Princeſſes; but 'tis aſſur'd none of theſe Reports can have any manner of Certainty, till the King's return to England

His Excellency Mr Fawkner arriv'd at Hanover on Sunday Se'nnight, and immediately waited upon my Lord Harrington, by whom he was introduc'd the next Day to the King, and his Majeſty, as we hear, was pleas'd to confer the Honour of Knighthood upon him.

Next Week the Yachts, under a Convoy of Men of War, will ſail for Holland to bring over the King

We hear a Treaty of Marriage is on foot between the Hon. Mr. Mordaunt, Brother to Lord Mordaunt, and Grandſon to the Earl of Peterborough, and the Right Hon. the Counteſs of Pembroke

Peterborough houſe at Parſons green is fitting up with all ſpeed, and, 'tis ſaid, for their Reception

The Rupert Man of War, who was reported in ſome of the News Papers to have run on a Rock in her Paſſage from the Weſt Indies, is expected daily to arrive in Plymouth Harbour, where ſhe is order'd to be laid up.

A few Days ago died, at the Houſe of his Son the Rev. Mr. Grant in Devonſhire, the Rev. Dr. Grant, Vicar of St. Dunſtan in the Weſt, which Living he had enjoy'd upwards of 57 Years. The Preſentation is in Joſeph Taylor, Eſq: the Impropriator.

They write from Italy, that the Allies being advanc'd near the Trentine, threaten to penetrate to the Tyroleſe; but it was not believ'd they would attempt it, but content themſelves to canton in the Neighbourhood to prevent the Imperialiſts making any Excurſions The Spaniards, to whom the Siege of Mantua is left, will block up that place very cloſely, and perhaps poſſeſs themſelves of ſome of the Outworks, but it does not ſeem certain that they will undertake the Siege in form this Winter. The King of Sardinia has demanded new Taxes of the poor Milaneze, and, 'tis ſaid, wrote them word, that if they found any difficulty to raiſe the Money, he would ſend 30,000 Collectors to aſſiſt them The Allies obſerve a Diſcipline in the Venetian Territories which is hardly to be imagined; they encamp amidſt Gardens, yet touch not ſo much as a Cabbage or a Grape: Orders are publiſh'd every where, that the Inhabitants truſt neither Officers nor Soldiers; and a Collonel who pretended to reſent a Venetian's refuſing him Credit, was put in Arreſt for fifteen Days, and fin'd three Months Pay: Four of the Piedmonteſe Grenadiers having given ſome ſmall Cauſe of Complaint, were chain'd under a Tent four Days and Nights at an Allowance only of Bread and Water, juſt to keep them alive.

They adviſe from Madrid, that a Council of War was held the 12th Inſtant at S: Ildefonſo, wherein it was reſolv'd to have a ſufficient Force on the Frontiers, to act as might be judg'd proper againſt Portugal; to which Purpoſe Orders were immediately iſſued for a Reinforcemnt of eleven Regiments of Foot, ſix of Horſe, and as many of Dragoons, to march thither. Don Lewis, though but eight Years old, has receiv'd the minor Orders of Prelacy, the Tonſure and the Habit, and the Pope has ſent him the neceſſary Bulls for his Archbiſhoprick of Toledo. 1500 Seamen having been collected from the Coaſts, were on the Road to Cadiz to man the Fleet, which wanted nothing but its Complement of Hands to put inſtantly to Sea

Letters from Lombardy of the 11th Inſt mention, that a new Conſpiracy has been diſcovered at Mantua, which put General Stampa and Count Wirgenau, their Civil and Military Governors in great Confuſion The ſaid Conſpiracy was compoſed of ſome of the moſt ſubſtantial People there, and that ſome German Officers were concerned in it; that the Heads of them are, viz. Lieutenant Colonel Weſtkow a Swiſs, in his Imperial Majeſty's Service, and Meſſieurs Loli Gomazzi, and the noble Thomaſino, had the Opportunity of eſcaping into the Spaniſh Camp. They reported in the Camp that the Peaſants who were at Mantua ſo much diſcontented at the Conduct, Reſtriction, and Ordinances of Count Wirgenau, that certainly as ſoon as a Breach will be made before Mantua, there will be a Mutiny in that Town: Count Wirgenau at the Diſcovery of the Conſpiracy, arreſted 30 of the richeſt Gentlemen in that City, but to prevent a Mutiny, he was obliged to releaſe them. The Sickneſs rages ſo much among the Garriſon, that there is hardly a Day but they bury 10 or 12 of the Soldiers, and ſuch Demands and Complaints are daily made by the Peaſants to the Governor on Account of the Want of Proviſion, that he will be obliged to give them part thereof belonging to the Garriſon. It is ſaid that the Duke of Montemar will command the Siege in Perſon, and that a Memorial of ſome of the Magiſtrates directed to the ſaid General, was found at Mr. Pinelli's the City's Notary, the 9th Inſt. N S

Ratiſbon, Sept 21 N S. The Dyet is about taking a Reſolution, concerning the Succours of the ſixty Roman Months, demanded by the Emperor. It is not in the leaſt doubted, that the Deciſion of that Affair will anſwer the Expectation of his Imperial Majeſty. The States of the Kingdom of Bohemia having delivered a Memorial to the Emperor, remonſtrating the extreame Paſſion of the Nobility of that Kingdom for travelling into France, which was grown to an Abuſe not to be tolerated, and the Country becoming thereby not only drained of immenſe Sums, which are employed in uſeleſs Expences; moſt of them that travel thither, bringing home no other Benefit of their expenſive Travels, than a vain Addiction to frivolous Novelties and luxurious Faſhions; the ſaid States therefore intreat his Imperial Majeſty to remedy ſo great an Abuſe of thoſe Travels, by forbidding the Nobility of Bohemia to travel into France without his expreſs Leave, and laying a conſiderable Fine upon thoſe who ſhall be guilty of Disobedience. The Emperor has received that Memorial in a very favourable Manner, and signifies to the States his Readiness to concurr with Pleasure in all the Measures, they shall propose for remedying the like Abuses: That he would shortly cause a Regulation to be published upon that Subject; and that therein the importing into the Empire, as well in time of Peace as of War, all French Toys and Merchandizes, solely serving for Luxury, will be forbidden, to save thereby the great Sums that would otherwise continue to go every Year out of Germany. We hear from Memmingen in Suabia, that the famous Baron de Steberg, known by his pretended Secrets, was arrested there for the like Reasons that obliged him to leave Holland.

Hamburg Sept. 23 N. S. The Regency of this City has presented the King of Prussia with four tall Men, which cost them each 1450 Crowns Bounty Money. They were willing to express their Acknowledgment of the Powerful Intercession his Prussian Majesty has employed in their Behalf, at the Court of Copenhagen. In effect that Prince has supported the Interest of this City in the strongest Manner possible; his Majesty having always considered the same as a free City, making Part of the Empire, whereas the King of Denmark has always regarded it as hereditarily depending of the Crown of Denmark

Bristol, Aug 30. During the last great Dearth of Corn, when foreign Ships supply'd this Port with that Commodity, such Numbers of large Rats left those Vessels after their being unladed, that now they are become very numerous and troublesome, both to the Houses in this City, and the Neighbouring Farms towards the River: And a Gentleman has made an Experiment of the following Receipt in his Store Houses, as the only Remedy for killing those Vermin.

Take one Ounce of Cantharides and one Ounce of Glass Antimony, both finely powder'd, and mix it up with half a Pound of Currays and one Pint of Oat Meal, put it in small Quantities where you please, having some Water near it

Frankfort Sept 23 N. S. The French Army has during its stay at Eppenheim and in the Neighbourhood of Grunstadt foraged every two Days, and gathered as much Subsistence, as was possible. We are assured it resumed its March the Day before yesterday, to go to the Camp on the other Side Frankenthal, and near the Line of the Rivulet of Spiers. The Count de Belleisle has sent for all the Forrage that could be got together from the Hondstruck and the neighbouring Places of the Moselle, to fill the Magazines of Keyzerslautern and Homburg. That General is assembling a separate Body of 20,000 Men, to advance towards the aforetaid River, and to observe, whether the Body of the Imperialists, commanded by the Count de Seckendorff, is designed to attempt something upon the Archbishoprick of Triers. The French Garrison which was at Worms, left that Place and joined the Army. The Marshal de Coigny has caused all the Grain and Forage found with the Inhabitants of the Country adjacent to Worms and Grunstadt, to be bought up. The greatest Part of the Russians are arrived in the Camp assigned them at Wisloch, four Leagues from Spiers and six from Philipsbourg. According to the Relations from the Camp of Ingolstadt, the Elector of Bavaria continues still there. That Prince dispatches frequent Couriers to Vienna, and receives as many from thence: He has caused to be published at the Head of his Camp, the Decree which the Dyet of Ratisbon had issued to hinder the Desertion in the Army of the Empire. That Elector has added a rigorous Order to conform exactly to the Contents of that Decree. We learn from Mentz, that twelve Battalions of the Imperial Troops, with those of Denmark and Wolfenbuttel, are to march to morrow under the Command of the Count de Seckendorff, to go and post themselves towards the Moselle. A Report is current here, that a great Body of French Troops have passed the Rhine under the Cannon of Philipsbourg.

Dublin, Sept 22. A very odd Circumstance happen'd lately in Lifty-Street, viz. two Servants liv'd with a Gentleman, the one as Man Cook, the other House-keeper, for about 18 Years, and were married 16: Some Difference happening between them, the House keeper declar'd the Cook was no Man, but a Woman, and had Reasons to believe that her said pretended Husband was with Child; which we hear upon Examination prov'd so. We are likewise inform'd, that the House-keeper is since marry'd to a young Lad of Eighteen.
